

Camp Witness

Long Pine, NE

Sr. Counselor Job Description:

At Camp Witness, we are looking for Sr. Counselors who can lead a cabin of children in a variety of activities. Sr. Counselors are required to be at least Sr high or college age, but there's no maximum age! We expect our Sr. Counselors to be willing-willing to do whatever is asked of them, like help with STAFF devotions. We want counselors who can lead their campers in cabin devotions as well as cabin prayer time and can get their campers from one activity to the next on time. We are looking for Sr. Counselors who can help get their campers involved in activities and make sure they're following Camp rules-helping out during chores and cabin cleaning, not wandering off, being respectful, etc. We are looking for counselors who are willing to be excited and energetic, even a little spontaneous-even if they don't feel like it. Counselors make or break Camp for the campers, so having fun and a good attitude speaks a lot to these kids. Above all, we want our Sr. Counselors to be spiritually mature enough so they can have spiritual, meaningful, one-on-one conversations with each of their campers. We expect them to be able to turn conversations into spiritual ones and be able to share the gospel clearly with any age group. We are looking for dedicated, willing servants, who love God and His Word, and who love kids enough to share the Gospel with them and be a role model for them during their week of Camp. We definitely encourage you to pray about being a counselor for even just a week-you'll be amazed how God uses you if you're willing to step out and serve.

Jr. Counselor Job Description:

At Camp Witness, we are looking for Jr. Counselors who are willing to serve and give of their time. If you don't know if you want to be a counselor or not, just starting with being a Jr. Counselor can help you see if you enjoy it or not. Jr. Counselors are required to be at least 15 years old. Jr. Counselors are expected to be a help to their Sr. Counselor, whether that's keeping an eye on the kids when they are or aren't around, helping be energetic and get the kids to participate and get involved in Chapel or games, or simply being in the cabin making sure the kids can stay inside and get settled down. We are looking for Jr. Counselors who are willing to get out of their comfort zone a little bit. Someone who would be able to pray publicly when called upon, willing to even try taking a cabin devotion one night so the Sr. Counselor can have a break. We strongly encourage Jr. Counselors to try one-on-one's as well, learning how to sit down and having that meaningful, personal, and spiritual conversation with a camper, and be able to share the Gospel with them if need be. Being able to do that helps take some stress off the Sr. Counselor and is a good opportunity for personal growth as well. Jr. Counselors can play a special part of Camp-helping Sr. Counselors have an easier week, getting to spend good time interacting with the kids, learning to have fun by taking on responsibilities, and being a cheerful servant that's an example to their campers, and even getting them excited about serving at Camp someday! We encourage you to pray about stepping out and serving as a Jr. Counselor!
